Neoconix CEO Speaks at Western Technology Investment's 8th Annual CEO/CFO and Institutional Investors Conference

SUNNYVALE, March 3rd, 2005 – Neoconix CEO, Dirk Brown, will speak on the company's "Strategies for Growth" at the Western Technology Investment (WTI) 8th annual CEO/CFO and Institutional Investor conference on Thursday, April 21st in Palo Alto. The conference will be followed by a dinner with a keynote speech by Atiq Raza, CEO of Raza Technologies.

WTI is the largest independent venture lending organization in the United States. The firm is a leading provider of debt financing to start-up and emerging growth companies with a strong affiliation with the venture capital community.

Dr. Brown joins a select group of CEOs that have been asked by WTI to present their corporate visions to over 100 institutional investors. He will discuss some of the dramatic trends in the electrical, mechanical, and reliability requirements demanded in today's electronic systems, particularly in mobile and consumer applications. His talk will focus on the major limitations imposed by electrical interconnections in these systems and some of the innovative technologies that Neoconix is introducing to meet future interconnect demands.

About Neoconix: Neoconix, Inc. blazes the path of least resistance between electronic devices with innovative interconnect solutions. Formerly Epic Technology, Inc., the company leverages proprietary technologies and unique manufacturing processes to deliver optimized electrical interconnection solutions that greatly improve the cost and performance of our customers' electronic systems.
